

Welcome!

Welcome to Gontz Photography! I am no longer operating Gontz Photography as a stand alone photography business. If you need photography work done in conjunction with a project such as a website or a professional report, please see Gontz Technology Services, LLC . If you are looking for a photographer to do portraits or a wedding, I recommend Klose Photography. All of the photos on this site are the work of Trevor Gontz unless otherwise noted (There are several photos now by Jeremy Wilcox.) and be may used free of charge for non-commercial purposes such as a educational and private use. Photos from this website CANNOT be added to other online galleries or made available for download by anyone else. If you intend to use images from this site for any purpose please visit my Copyright Information page. If you wish to use any of these images for commercial purposes then go to my Contact Page to request permission.

Instructions for saving pictures:

Microsoft Internet Explorer users:

right-click on the photo and choose Save Picture As...

Mozilla Firefox users:
right-click on the picture and choose Save Image As..